

Changing Honduras anti-corruption ecosystem

1. Understanding the Honduran electoral cycle and informal rules. Ballot design and political party internal rules and regulations. Honduras is not a democracy; it is a hybrid regime where authoritarians use democratic institutions for personal and group gains.
2. Predatory behavior during COVID-19 and post hurricanes needs to stop with an effective rule of law. Currently, it is broken with no intentions of being fixed. General Attorney and Judicial Branch need to be more accountable to the public, and Congress has to be democratized.
3. Best practices from civil society: AJS monitoring and evaluation methodology is proven to work. Legal compliance and results based reviews; transparency, and public service delivery has had a 28% increase. Time, resources, and political buy-in
4. International assistance needs to be two dimensional: programmatic and political levers; avoid conflicts/contradiction between immigration policy and governance policy.
5. Building trust through citizen ownership and transparency. Control of corruption and trust in institutions means more meritocracy and integrity in selecting anti-corruption officials. Repeal impunity legislation.
